PRASCO

Historical Overview of Prasco

In 1997, inspired by a desire for professional growth and with a strong work ethic, Angel Urdaneta, just three years removed from graduating from the School of Electrical Engineering at the University of the Andes in Mérida, Venezuela, gave birth to this great dream that today transcends borders and is reborn in the United States of America in the state of Florida. This new venture is backed by a strategic business plan based on more than 25 years of experience encompassing services and construction in utility companies involved in the commercialization, distribution, transmission, and generation of electric power. Additionally, there's a significant history of growth in the Oil and Gas industry. Together with its leader, Prasco has accumulated over 5 years of experience in the Electrical Contracting industry in the U.S., leading diverse teams on major projects such as hospitals, amusement parks, and educational buildings.

Today, Prasco is a well-established industry player, ready to continue contributing while implementing a clear customer service policy. The company aims to positively impact the state of Florida with its core values.
